

Lexmark's MarkVision puts you in control

This intelligent Lexmark software monitors printers proactively for superior network management and printer setup.

- MarkVision Professional is a cross-platform print-management solution that enables IT managers to monitor and manage network devices in the office environment via a web browser
- It provides device status and information, centralised device setup, remote printer monitoring and management, and asset-management capabilities
- This software also launches automatic responses to the printer's conditions, fixing issues before they become problems that could disrupt productivity.

Note: The printer must be network-attached to be managed with MarkVision Professional.
